FAMILY DAY PROMISES TO BE A DECIDED SUCCESS

"Family Day," which will be observed Sunday by the First Christian Bible school, promises to be a decided success, as considerable interest has been created in the plans, which have for their object an attendance of not less than 1,200 and the assembling of not less than 200 one-hundred per cent families.

It was announced Friday that Mrs. Samuel B. Timmonds will lead the singing, and this means some lively scenes at Third and Gay streets from 8 until 9:30 a. m. Mrs. Timmonds has a way to make every one sing and she will lead the First Christians ready and willing to respond to her calls. The little folks will assemble with the grown-ups for the opening period, and while this will mean a congested crowd, nevertheless it will be a happy one. The male chorus will render several selections and all in all the day promises to be one of those red letter affairs in the life of the school. With the flood larger still, the members, many of whom live in the low water districts, can forget the big river and come to Bible school, forgetting there is such a thing as the turbulent Ohio river which is now cutting up so many canyons, but creating no damage.

The Loyal Men's class is working hard for the biggest attendance of all departments. They may run up against a big surprise, for the Junior Boys are out in drives and are going to lead the men a merry chase to-morrow.

Credit Men Meet Monday

Board Authorizes Use Of Building If It Is Needed

At the special meeting of the School Board yesterday to allow the payroll of the teachers, a motion was passed in which President Dr. E. C. Jackson and Superintendent Appel were given power to quarter families in one of the local school buildings, should the high water drive them out of their homes, on Mill and Front streets, in the event of these people not being able to secure aid through some other source.

It has been the custom in the past for the school board to permit flood-stricken families the use of rooms in one of the buildings, if they are unable to find other places of refuge, but it was pointed out at the meeting that there are available store-rooms about the city in which families could be quartered should their homes be flooded, which is improbable. Should this action become necessary on the part of the board, the Union street school will probably be thrown open for use.

A teachers' payroll amounting to $11,780.23 was allowed.

Gallipolis Shows Gain

The census bureau at Washington Friday announced the population of two more Ohio cities, Gallipolis and Defiance.

Gallipolis, O., 1920 population, 6,070; 510 increase; 8.2 per cent increase; 1910 population, 5,560.

Water Boat Turns Turtle

A small motorboat owned by Orville Kerns, employed in the Times circulation department, turned over Friday at the foot of Chatham street, the boat catching under a targe and turning over. Kerns intends to beach the boat when the high water goes down, so he can remove the engine, which will be only slightly damaged by the water.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. The pleasant little tablets do the work that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dizziness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "tired" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 25c

River Rising Very Slowly; Nears 52 Foot Mark

(BULLETIN)
(At 3 o'clock this afternoon, when local River Observer Fred Winter made a special reading of the Ohio river gauge, the stage registered 51.8, the rate of rise from seven this morning until two being less than 3-4 of an inch per hour. In the seven hour period ending at two o'clock the river had come up only 4-10 of a foot.)

(BULLETIN)
"Over at Portsmouth will be between 53 and 55 feet tonight or Sunday, from present indications."
This was the two o'clock report received from Weather Forecaster Demareux at Cincinnati this morning.
The river is rising from Pittsburgh down. The rain was general, but very light in the Ohio Valley yesterday.

"This morning at 7 o'clock the stage in the Ohio river was 51.4 feet. Although still rising the rate is very slow, being less than half an inch per hour."

According to Local River Observer Fred Winter this morning, the rate of rise indicates that the crest will be about 52 feet. Just about the stage River Forecaster Demareux of Cincinnati predicted for this point.

The rainfall yesterday afternoon and last night was very light, the total for the day being only .16 of an inch.

The high water here has not done much damage so far. The backwater in Lawson's Run is over Harmon street, south of Sixth street, cutting off residents on upper Jackson street from Sixth street. Boats are being used to cross the backwater at this place.

Rains Not General

The Huntington Herald-Dispatch this morning said:

"The heavy rains of Thursday night do not appear to have been general beyond the Kanawha Valley."

"It is highly probable that many locations both in the business and residential districts will be flooded in the course of today or tomorrow."

"The precipitation for twenty-four hours preceding eight o'clock yesterday morning was 1.10 inches at Charleston, and 1.02 inches at Huntington."

"The Kanawha was falling at Charleston yesterday morning but the rapid rise of the New River in the course of the day made it seem certain that a flood stage, thirty feet, would be reached here not later than this morning."

Expect 55 Feet
At Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, O., Mar. 20.—Because of the water from the swollen streams and rivers overflowing its tracks at several points, the Interurban Railway & Terminal Company was forced last night to suspend operation of traction cars between Cincinnati and New Richmond, Ohio.

The rise continued in the Ohio river at Cincinnati this morning at the rate of one-tenth of a foot an hour. In view of clear weather and lower temperatures predicted for the Ohio valley, however, river men believed the crest would be reached some time today at approximately 55 feet.

Railroad and postoffice officials have completed arrangements to evacuate the Central Union Station should the river rise above 52.5 feet, at which place the tracks leading to the Central Union train sheds are submerged. Other depots outside the flood zone will be used.

River front business people and families living in the lowlands are prepared to move to higher ground if the river continues to rise.

Crest at Portsmouth will be between fifty-two and fifty-three feet tonight or Sunday, from present indications.
F. R. WINTER,
River Observer.

In temperature and the absence of any storm conditions will prevent a serious flood in the Cincinnati district as a result of the present rise in the Ohio river, Government Weather Forecaster W. C. Demareux said today. The crest of the rise here will be reached Sunday and the maximum height will be between 54 and 55 feet, the forecaster predicted. The stage at 11 a. m. today was 51.8 or 3.6 feet above the flood mark, and rising at the rate of one-tenth of a foot an hour.

Few houses were inundated today although many families in the lowlands of the east and mid creek valley sections of the city moved their household effects to the second story. The water was in the streets of Newport, Kentucky, and residents in the neighborhood of Fourth and Isabelle streets were preparing to move into their upper stories. In Covington, Kentucky, the water reached Second street between Greenup and Garard streets.

Officials of the Cincinnati, Lawrencburg and Aurora traction lines expected to halt traffic between Cincinnati, Lawrenceburg, Indiana and Aurora, Indiana, when the river reached a stage of 54 feet.

River stages this morning were: Parkersburg, 33.5 feet, rising, snow. Point Pleasant, 30.5, rising, cloudy. Huntington, 47.1, rising, snow. Portsmouth, 51.3, rising, partly cloudy.

Carson Is Dismissed

Carson, 1825 Summit street, charged with embezzlement, was dismissed Saturday morning when it came up for trial before Judge Small and a jury in Municipal court.

At a well attended and enthusiastic joint meeting of the Democratic Executive and Central Committees held at Democratic Headquarters in the Kricker building and presided over by County Chairman William N. Gableman in strong resolutions unanimously adopted commends President Woodrow Wilson, lauds the record of Senator Atlee Pomerene, renew fealty to their matchless state leader, Governor James M. Cox, and placed the stamp of approval on his candidacy for president. The resolutions also endorse Hon. William A. Julian of Cincinnati for United States senator, State Auditor A. V. Donaher for governor and Hon. Hugh L. Nichols, of Clermont county, for reelection as Chief Justice of the Ohio Supreme court.

The Scioto County Democratic Executive and Central Committees in session on this date, reaffirm their faith in the time-tested principles of our party and commend our national leader, President Woodrow Wilson for his firm and unwavering stand for humanity throughout this epochal era of world war and its reconstruction period. We renew our fealty to our matchless state leader, Governor James M. Cox and recall his commanding figure in the war periods which happily are now at an end. We would be remiss in our three fold obligation at this time, did we not include in our praise and full appreciation, the statesmanship of Ohio's Senior Senator Hon. Atlee Pomerene and his high-minded concept of duty to his country, state and party.

Nor can we refrain from entering our appreciation for the narrowly partisan inaction of both our National and State legislative Assemblies, which have wasted many months of time and millions in money, without a single helpful or constructive act. In consequence of these timely reflections, Scioto County's Democracy through its duly chosen committees, unanimously adopts the following resolutions:

We endorse most earnestly the official acts of President Wilson and Senator Pomerene and we commend both of these eminent statesmen in the further favors of a grateful Republic. We heartily approve Governor James M. Cox as the party's nominee for President, and are certain that his record as our country's "Best War Governor," indisputably marks him as the most logical Chief Executive for the nation in its further problems of peace.

We cordially join in the seemingly unanimous spirit of Ohio's Democracy to choose Hon. William A. Julian of Cincinnati as our candidate for Senator. We find in him a man of large and successful business affairs, yet with his eyes and heart wide open to those broad and humanitarian problems of a dawning brighter day.

We are glad to unite wholeheartedly in the state wide plan to elevate State Auditor A. V. Donaher to the gubernatorial chair. In this movement which is omipartisan in character we pledge our strongest aid, to the end that the state may continue to have an honest and economical administration of its affairs.

We have a particular interest and neighborly pride in the candidacy of Hon. Hugh L. Nichols of Clermont county for reelection as Chief Justice of the Ohio Supreme Court. His private life and his record as a just and upright law giver, we feel should prompt this vote of confidence upon the part of all the voters of Ohio.

We desire to enter our strongest approval of the primary system for elections. This was a Democratic measure in its inception, and we urge that there is no other agency that can bring government closer to a free people. The plan is opposed only by those who have reason to fear it. Its vindication is found this year in Ohio, where Ohio Democrats find their time-tried public servants being drafted and unopposed for greater honors at the hands of a grateful electorate.

Portsmouth, Ohio, March 20, 1920.

New Boston Lodge To Erect A New Building

Through an announcement made today that the Millbrook Building Company of New Boston has been incorporated with a capital of $20,000. It was learned that the J. O. U. A. M. Council No. 268 of New Boston would soon have a home in a new and centrally located business block. The incorporators are W. H. Cantor, Henry T. Riddle, George Lawler and Robert Riddle, all except Riddle being residents of New Boston. The men are members of the lodge, but the new building will not be owned by the Council, although most of the stock will be owned by members of the J. O. U. A. M.

The lodge has been busy the last several months casting about for a site and within a few days the committee in charge of this matter hopes to have a deal closed and to begin building very soon. The structure to be erected will be a business block with a large hall on the second floor as a meeting place for the lodge. The lodge is now meeting in Davis hall on Gallia street.

THE NEED OF THE DAY

SITTING, we send professional, self-seeking politicians to the National Convention. The occupation of men is often an index to their true character. Any school-boy can easily define all the most useful vocations of men, and in very many instances, he can tell the various useful professions of the men, engaged in agriculture, manufacturing and commerce.

Likewise, the same boy can name the useful professions, and designate the various duties devolving upon, and accepted by those engaged therein. It requires no superior knowledge to define and designate the specific professions, and the duties of the farmer, the mechanic, the merchant, the physician, the attorney, and many other useful and honorable occupations.

But, let us try to define, and to designate the employment of the professional politician. First, we must refer to a good dictionary. The Standard Dictionary thus defines a politician:

"One who is engaged in politics; one who seeks to subvert the interest of a political party merely; especially one who uses politics for private advantage; a spoilsman; a political schemer; a crafty or artful person."

When we attempt to tell what is produced by the professional self-seeking politician, we are at a loss for language to properly express the thought we may have in mind. We might say that he produces doubt, dissatisfaction and discontentment in the minds of those whose duty it is to make selections for the various official positions, which must be filled, if our government is to be properly administered. A candidate named by a convention of self-seeking politicians, always stands a good chance of being defeated at the election. The chances of defeat at the election are greatly increased if the voters become convinced that the nomination was made by the machination of a small number of self-seeking, and oftentimes unscrupulous politicians.

Lord Macaulay, in his History of England, when writing of the conditions prevailing in England, during the reign of Charles the Second, in the seventeenth century, gives the following account of the times, and the character of the politicians of that day. His language may well be applied to many politicians of the present day, now claiming to be the especial, and heaven-sent champions of the various candidates for President.

Lord Macaulay says, "Scarcely any rank or profession escaped the infection of the prevailing immorality; but those persons who made politics their business, were perhaps the most corrupt part of the corrupt society."

"One, who, in such an age, is determined to attain civil greatness, must renounce all thoughts of consistency. Instead of affecting immutability in the midst of endless mutation, he must always be on the watch for the coming reaction. He must seize the exact moment for deserting a falling cause."

"Having gone all lengths with a faction while it was uppermost, he must suddenly extricate himself from it when its difficulties begin, must assail it, must persecute it, must enter on a career of power and prosperity in company with new associates. His situation naturally develops in him to the highest degree, a peculiar class of abilities, and a peculiar class of vices. He becomes quick of observation and fertile of resources."

"He catches without effort the tone of any set or party with which he chances to mingle. He discerns the signs of the times with a sagacity which to the multitude appears miraculous, with a sagacity resembling that with which a Mohawk warrior follows a track through the woods."

"But, we shall seldom find, in a statesman so trained, integrity, constancy, or any of the virtues of the noble family of Truth. He has no faith in any doctrine, no zeal for any cause. He sneers alike at those who are anxious to preserve, and at those who are eager to reform. There is nothing in the state which he could not, without scruple, or a blush, join in defending or in destroying."

"Fidelity to opinions, and to friends seems to him mere dulness and wrongheadedness. Politics he regards, not as a science, of which the object is the happiness of mankind, but as an exciting game of mixed chance and skill at which a dextrous player may win an estate, a coronet, or perhaps a crown."

"Ambition, which in good times, and in good minds, is half a virtue, now, becomes a selfish cupidity, scarcely less ignoble than avarice."

Since history shows, in all the ages of man, of which we now have definite knowledge, that avarice, cupidity, and treachery have characterized many of those shifty, self-seeking politicians, who practiced the art of fawning upon those having authority, or those who expected, and sought to be placed in power; may we not be justified in looking with suspicion and distrust upon many of those politicians of the present day, who are now soliciting support for themselves, and for the candidate of their alleged choice?

Do not times and conditions now demand the selection of such candidates, as have the minds and characters, described in the following lines by one of our American poets, J. G. Holland:

God give us men! A time like this demands
 Strong minds, great hearts, true faith, and ready hands;
 Men whom the lust of office does not kill;
 Men whom the spoils of office cannot buy;
 Men who possess opinions and a will;
 Men who have honor, men who will not lie;
 Men who can stand before a demagogue,
 And damn his treacherous flatteries without winking,
 Tall men, sun crowned, who live above the fog
 In public duty, and in private thinking;
 For while the rabble, with their thumb-worn creeds,
 Their large professions and their little deeds—
 Mingle in selfish strife, let Freedom weep,
 Wrong rules the land, and waiting Justice sleeps.

And so the good and saintly Reverend Perley Baker has decried that Governor Cox will not do for president and that he must be opposed by all the legions and resources at his command. Nothing surprising in that. Mr. Baker and his Anti-Saloon League have never been noted for any tenderness of feeling towards Democratic candidates. The League has been known to support but one Democratic candidate for a state office since its organization, and that candidate did not long survive the shock.

We talked to one of the high-up officials of the Norfolk and Western Railroad yesterday, and of course made inquiry about that new depot. He reminded us that we had said the other day that "Rome was not built in a day" and then said we would get that depot all right, that we were on the preferred list and there would be something doing as soon as the railroad managers had a chance, to get their breath.

Going to have a real, honest-to-goodness clean-up day for the women are going to manage it. We'll bet there'll be some dirt on the move when they get down to work and this old town will know it when they are through with the job.

Aside from the inevitable bad effect of the rejection of the peace treaty upon the future of the world, we tremble at the misery in store for the long-suffering American public who will be compelled to endure the speeches of all the long-haired and short-haired orators of the land during the coming presidential campaign.

After reading the fair and impartial columns of those noble exponents of journalism and Republicanism, the Columbus Dispatch and the Ohio State Journal we sometimes pinch ourselves and wonder how for twenty years Warren Harding has managed to successfully play the part of the gay deceiver and leave us under the mistaken impression that he was a royal good fellow, all wool and a yard wide and with brains enough to take hold of and manage most any sort of enterprise from a newspaper to a nation.

The DIARY OF AN ENGAGED GIRL

SEEKING THINGS FROM DAUGHTER'S VIEWPOINT IS NOT EASY FOR MOTHER

At breakfast this morning mother told me that she had offered to let me have three months in Europe, that is if my wedding day was not scheduled until sometime in the fall. You see Jack and I have postponed the great day because he has been ordered west on a three months' tour of inspection for his firm.

I'm almost faint with delight at the news for I have longed for years to let me see Paris, London and all those wonderful cities that have read about. But he never seemed in the least bit enthusiastic about my idea. And now!

Of course, dear old Jack will be happy at my good luck and we can just as well be married in September—the new date planned by us both. I should die if I had to give up this trip.

Aunt Cecilia is also to go, but somehow or other she didn't seem a bit enthusiastic about the prospect, much to my amazement. She sort of looked far-awayish and the expression that was in her eyes when she told me her story last night came into them again. She has lovely starry eyes, the dear.

When I asked her if she wasn't wild to go she said that it would be a great treat for her, but she wasn't sure that she had a right to let Daddy undertake her expenses (and all that sort of thing). I believe that she is thinking of plans of her own. She never says very much.

Aunt Cecilia.

I shall tell Jack at tea today and then I can go ahead and plan for the conquest of Paris to my heart's content. Mother insisted that I allow Jack to decide about the whole matter and that made me feel queer. Mother is such a stickler for the rights of fiancés. Too much so!

She'd never allow me an inch of liberty if she had her way, I'm sure. Mothers are most peculiar people, I think. They seem to forget, sometimes, that they were once young and filled with longings—just those longings that mean so little and yet so much!

She was peered when I tossed my head and told her that Jack had just told me of his proposed trip and that I did not see that the decision lay with Jack any more than with myself. She said that to her way of thinking the girls of today were far too independent for their own good. That struck me funny. Of course we had an argument right then and there. We've had lots of them lately. It must be that we are both more nervous than usual and I'm sure I am more touchy since I became engaged to Jack.

Mother was very angry when I looked over at her and reminded her that after all, I was only half a grown-up as yet and he couldn't see why girls had to be rushed from their baby days right into problematic ones. He patted my hand as he said it, too.

Mother called him a stupid and reminded him that she had been his wife a year at my age. Poor mother, no wonder she's forgotten the little longings of her girlhood days. Why, she's been married forever.

When she left the table she told me that "one foot in the family was enough," and I saw poor dear Aunt Cecilia go scarlet, for the idyl was meant for her as well as me.

Oh, mother, mother, how can you help to tear the veil of illusion from my eyes?

NEW YORK, Mar. 20.—Down at police headquarters every morning the nightly catch of Tenderloin crooks are paraded before the pick of Central Office sleuths, who are masked. It is thus that many international adventurers are picked out of crowds by their walk, their tilt of the head, the swing of the arm and by the facial expression.

Handsome Charlie Garth has become known by his green ties to the police. No matter how he tries to disguise himself he always wears a green tie—a superstition, the police say, and a bit of sentiment, too. The day he won $75,000 at Monte Carlo he was wearing a green tie that his mother had given him for his birthday. The next day he wore a black tie and lost and then he wore the green tie for five successive days and almost broke the bank.

 Jane.—You look as if you had lost your last friend. What is wrong?
 Marie.—I've just discovered that Harry is false to me. He wrote me from France that he wasn't even looking at any other girl and now I see in the paper that he has just been decorated for gallantry."

 "Yes, you may bring me one on approval," replied the passenger, as he gazed over the bounding deep. "I may not want to keep it."—Cornell Widow.

Rapid Progress
 For the fourth time a new baby had arrived at the home of Robert's sister Nellie. When informed of the event one of his aunts told him in an impressive manner that he was now an uncle for the fourth time. Rather fussed the little fellow answered: "Goodness no, if things keep on I'll soon be a grandpa!"—Chicago Tribune.

 "You should keep to the straight and narrow path."
 "True," said Mr. Cluggins, with great earnestness. "The journey of life, like every other journey, seems to be at its worst in the detours."

SENATE SENDS TREATY BACK TO WILSON WITH REFUSAL TO RATIFY EBERT FORCES BOMB BUILDINGS

MEASURE TO DECLARE STATE OF PEACE WITH GERMANY TO TAKE ITS PLACE IN SENATE

WASHINGTON, Mar. 20.—With the peace treaty on its way back to the White House today, accompanied by ratification to the president that the senate had finally "refused to advise and consent to its ratification" Senator Knox's resolution to declare a state of peace with Germany will take its place on the Senate floor. Consideration last night after the adverse vote on ratification, was blocked by adjournment until Monday.

Republican leaders expect some such measure to be passed. Suggestion that President Wilson might return the treaty to the senate brought emphatic statements from the majority that it virtually would be pigeonholed in the foreign relations committee. In any case, the treaty question was regarded as already injected into the presidential campaign as one of the main issues on which Republicans and Democrats will fight for national endorsement this fall.

Ratification was defeated last night by a vote of 49 to 5 the line-up being 28 Republicans and 21 Democrats for and 23 Democrats and 12 Republicans against. The net result of four months of compromise negotiations was the addition of 17 Democrats to those voting for ratification.

After the vote was taken Senator Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas, moved to reconsider, but was ruled out on a point of order. No appeal from the ruling was taken. Leaders on both sides being convinced that it was hopeless to expect affirmative action with the senate membership constituted as it now is.

The final adverse vote was the Republicans: Hall, Calder, Capper, Colt, Curtis, Dillingham, Edger, Ellkins, Fredinbaugh, Hale, Jones, (Washington), Kellogg, Kenyon, Keyes, Leavitt, Lodge, McLean, McNary, New, Page, Phlips, Smoot, Spencer, Sterling, Sulzberger, Wadsworth, Warren and Watson. Republicans 28.

Democrats: Ashurst, Becker, Chamberlain, Fletcher, Gore, Henderson, Kendrick, King, Myers, Nugent, Owen, Heland, Tillman, Pomeroy, Randall, Smith (Georgia), Smith (Maryland), Trammell, Walsh (Massachusetts), Walsh (Montana), and Wolcott, 21.
Total for, 49.

Against

fourth by which the senate has refused to approve the treaty, three others having been taken in November.

Action by the house of representatives would be necessary to consummate a declaration of peace by resolution, as contemplated by Senator Knox. His resolution proposes the repeal of the joint resolution declaring war and provides that unless Germany notifies the

Anti-Saloon League Declares War On Senator Hitchcock

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 20.—

The Anti-Saloon League today declared war on Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska.

Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the league, in a formal statement, said the senator's declaration in favor of an amendment to the prohibition code permitting light wines and beers "ought to defeat him not only as a candidate at the Democratic convention, but for the leadership in the senate."

"To champion a beer and wine amendment is nothing short of an attack upon law enforcement," said Mr. Wheeler. "This beer and wine movement is the entering wedge to destroy prohibition."

United States of its acceptance of all undertakings contained in the treaty of Versailles, the president would have the power to prohibit by proclamation commercial intercourse between the two nations or the giving of any assistance to Germany.

When the Knox resolution was put forward last December, considerable opposition to it became manifest in the house. There is a question whether the two legislative branches could get together on an acceptable draft of the resolution, or if President Wilson would accept it, if passed. His signature is required to make joint resolutions effective.

Senator Fall last summer submitted a series of questions to the president regarding the peace question, in which he asked if congress and the president could not declare peace by "process verbal" such as a resolution. President Wilson was emphatic at that time in his disapproval of such a course.

"I feel constrained to say," he wrote the New Mexican senator, "not only that in my judgment, I have not the power by proclamation to declare that peace exists but that I could in no circumstances consent to take such a course prior to the ratification of a formal treaty of peace."

"I feel it due to perfect frankness to say that it would in my opinion put a strain upon our national honor which we never could efface if after sending out men to the battlefield to fight the common cause we should abandon our associates in the war to the settlement of the terms of peace and disassociate ourselves from all responsibility with regard to those terms."

River Rising Very Slowly; Nears 52 Foot Mark

Rainfall Yesterday Has Little Effect

(BULLETIN)
"Cross at Portsmouth will be between 52 and 53 feet tonight or Sunday, from present indications."
This was the 10 o'clock report received from Weather Forecaster Deveraux at Cincinnati this morning.
The river is rising from Pittsburgh down. The rain was general, but very light in the Ohio valley yesterday.

This morning at 7 o'clock the stage in the Ohio river here was 51.3 feet. Although still rising the rate is very slow, being less than half an inch per hour.

According to Local River Observer Fred Winter this morning, the rate of rise indicates that the crest will be about 22 feet, just about the stage River Forecaster Deveraux of Cincinnati predicted for this point.

The rainfall yesterday afternoon and last night was very light, the total for the day being only .16 of an inch. The high water here has not done much damage so far. The backwater in Lawson's Run is over Harmon street, south of Sixth street, cutting off residents on upper Jackson street from Sixth street. Boats are being used to cross the backwater at this place.

Rains Not General
The Huntington Herald Dispatch this morning said:

"The heavy rains of Thursday night do not appear to have been general beyond the Kanawha valley. It is highly probable that many basements both in the business and residential districts will be flooded in the course of today or tomorrow.

"The precipitation for twenty-four hours preceding eight o'clock yesterday morning was 1.10 inches at Charleston, and 1.22 inches at Huntington.

"The Kanawha was falling at Charleston yesterday morning but the rapid rise of the New River in the course of the day made it seem certain that a flood stage, thirty feet, would be reached here not later than this morning."

Expected 55 Feet At Cincinnati
CINCINNATI, O., Mar. 20.—Because of the water from the swollen streams and rivers overflowing its banks at several points, the Interurban Railway & Terminal Company was forced last night to suspend operation of traction cars between Cincinnati and New Richmond, Ohio.

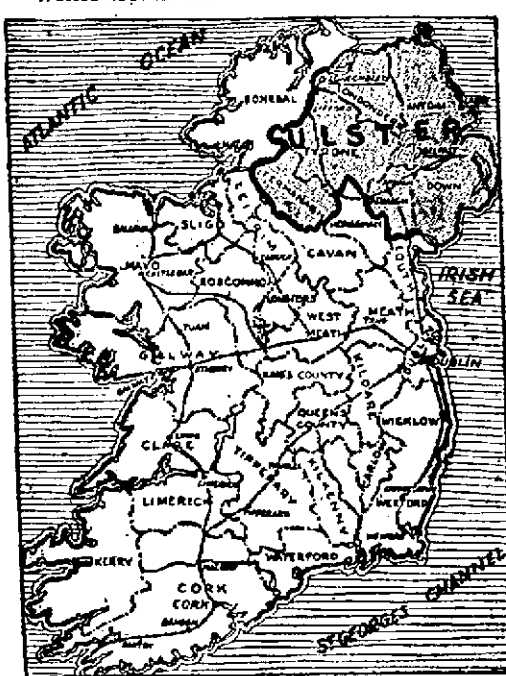

The rise continued in the Ohio river at Cincinnati this morning at the rate of one-tenth of a foot an hour. In view of clear weather and lower temperatures predicted for the Ohio valley, however, river men believed the crest would be reached some time today at approximately 55 feet.

Railroad and postoffice officials have completed arrangements to vacate the Central Union Station should the river rise above 53.5 feet, at which stage the tracks leading to the Central Union train sheds are submerged. Other depots outside the flood zone will be used.

River front business people and families living in the lowlands are prepared to move to higher ground if the river continues to rise.
